

Kansas City Zoo Deramus Education Pavilion

Project Overview

This pavilion consists of two linked buildings, an IMAX theater building and a “Rite of Passage” building. The complex is designed to blend into its surroundings, and utilizes passive solar design with operable windows to facilitate natural cross ventilation.

Location:

Kansas City Missouri
United States

Project Owner:

Kansas City Zoo

Submitting Architect:

Berkebile Nelson Immenschuh McDowell Architects

Source URL: <http://wp.aiaopten.org/node/310>